Just as I was sighting one of the guns of my battery, on the first day of the attack, I heard my name called by one at my side, and looking up, I saw G—, a young midshipmon, whose activity and officerlike conduct I had noticed at the time of our landing, when he had charge of a cutter which aided in putting us on shore.

He seemed very much excited; his dark eyes were flashing with emotion; his face was deadly pale, and yet there was something in his look as he stood out boldly upon the parapet of my battery, that told me that it was not fear that paled his check. Though shot and shell came bursting through as an girt tower amid the storm, gazing cityward.

What do you wan, G— ? and I, when I heard his voice, and at the same time stepping clear of the recoil of my gun, which the artillery-man advanced with his match to fire it.

POLITICAL. The atmosphere of the political world just now, notwithstanding the nearness of the election, is almost as cool as the atmosphere of the passing season .-The four parties lie in the field as chilly and stiff as a morning frost. The Demograts with all their present admiration of the war, seem to warm up no enthusiasm about it. Nor do the Whigs in the professed fervor of their opposition manifest any thing approaching to a melting zeal. As to the other two parties, they are so small, that they cannot sensibly affect the temperature of the times by any degree of warmth they are capable of generating It may be that this state of things is a good one. Perhaps it signifies that the people have ceased to act upon the ardent im pulses of party and are now exercising their cool judgment.

STUPENDOUS UNDERTAKING. The New-York Tribune translates from the " Deutsthe Schnellpost," the following apparently authentic account of arrangements already entered into for executing the long contem plated project of constructing a canal across the Isthmus of Sucz :

"The cutting through the Isthmus of Suez, is, at last, determined upon. The conditions of this enterprise, in which Europe is combined, are:—1. Egypt is made neutral State; her neutrality and independence are guaranteed by the Porte France, England and Austria ;-2, Prussia Russia, North America, and powers of sec ond rank, are invited to recognize this neutrality;—3. France, England, and Austria, make the cutting on their own cost, and levy a tonuage until the outlay is made interrupted by the breaking out of a way between the contracting parties. Austria undertakes to make the Nile navigable as far as Damiette, where there is to be an im mense harbor; (the oversight of this part the Austrian engineers, known to many of our readers by his residence in the United States;) England is to buy the necessary land at Suez, and the canal itself is to be cut by France and England together.'

DEATH OF MR. EVERETT. We learn from the English papers, received by the Cambria, that the Hon, Alexander H. Everett, U. S. Commissioner to China, died on the 28th of June, at the house of Dr P. Parker, Secretary of Legation, who had been for several years resident at Canton. He died of a severe and painful chronic disease, under which he had suffered for two or three years, at the age of 57 years. Notwithstanding the painful character of his complaint, he possessed his intellectual fa culties in their vigor to the last, and he devoted some hours to writing and business to the last day but one of his life. The foreign authorities at Canton appear to have shewn the most marked attentions at the funeral. The body of the deceased was borne to the boat by eight English sailors sent from the steamer Pluto. Besides the American gentlemen in Canton, the Brit seh officers there attended the funeral services, and the French squadron fired minute guns and sent a body of Marines to perform military honors at the grave. Mrs Everett remained at the last date at Canton, where she receives every kind attention and so-

ROUND TOP, IN THE CATSKILL MOUN-TAINS. A correspondent of the New York Evening Post, who has recently visited the most elevated points of the Catskill Mountains in the vicinity of the Hudson river, called High Peak or Round Top, recommends the adoption of measures for opening paths by which visiters may more easily ascend them, and for erecting on the latter a tower or observatory, of such height as to prevent the distant view being obstructed by the neighboring trees. He is of opinion that these heights would thus be rendered places of great attraction to travellers, on account of the magnificent view which would he thus presented. The elevation of the latter of these peaks is 1600 that of the Mountain House, in the vicinity dress. of Catskill-this house being 2200 feet above the level of the river. The writer of the article, with a companion, ascended these summits from the head of Plattskill Cove, on the 4th of the present month. In his description of this tour he says:-

"If a tower were built upon the summit look the trees, a circle of more than one hundred miles diameter would delight the traveller. The expense of such a tower be trifling, not more than one hundred dollars, for the spruces that grow so luxuriantly in the vicinity would furnish abundant material. party spirit is visible, as if Mr H. had read some straight-out sermon against the Mexican war. The address informs us, that there are about 1350 societies and places of public worship in Massachusetts, maintained at a probable average of a thousand dollars per annum. This it thinks is too great a tax on labor. The expenses should be curtailed by erecting less splendid edifices and by reducing the relative number of ministers. The address shows the process by which religious societies are dismembered by young ministers in search of societies, and how this division of congregations aids the undue increase of the clerical profession. It also shows some of the moral evils of this state of things, such as, that "subjects quite foreign to religious instruction are lugged into the pulpit, and our civil rulers and institutions are assailed by some zealous preachers, and disobedience to the powers that be inculcated." Mr H. would lesson the number of elergymen. It appears to us a better way would be to increase and enlarge the societies. > ANTI SLAVERY IN SLAVE STATES. The orm of action which the Anti Slavery people of the Slave States are now pursuing is, to give to each county the right to abolish Slavery whenever a majority of the legal voters shall think proper. An agitation for this end is getting headway in Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia and even North Carolina. It has a good prospect of success. The proposition recommends itself to the sense of justice of all, that each county should have entire control of a matter of such vital interest to itself.

In the Western counties of the States of North Carolina and Virginia and the Eastern posed of men and women in all grades of socounties of Tennessee, Slavery is merely nominal. The Louisville Examiner publishes the statistics of each State which show the Slave population to be comparatively small. In the six counties of Western North Carolina the Top to some one of the numerous roads entire population is 62,757, the number of lead towards the Mountain House, slaves 7,327, a proportion of 1 slave to about 81 inhabitants. In the six of Western Virginia, the entire population 47,821, slaves 1838, or I slave to every 25 2-3 inhabitants. In the six of Eastern Tonnessee, the entire populatien 68,563, Slaves 3,851, or 1 Slave to every 17 2-3 inhabitante.

In each of these regions the initiatory steps will soon be taken to bring this subject before the people, when it is confidently expected that the right of each county to legislate for itself upon the matter of Slavery will be fully Oh, when will civilized com- granted. THE UNITARIAN AUTUMNAL CON-VENTION

Assembled in Salem on Tuesday last, and closed on Thursday noon. The occasion, was one of great interest. It was well attended by both clergy and laity, amongst whom were some of the ablest in the denomination. The sermons in the Mechanic Hall were attended by at least 1500 people, and the churches during the discussions were crowded. The deliberations of the turned upon the great interests of humanity as embodied in the progress and reform of social institutions. We give below a sketch of the proceedng, from the Gazette and other sources.

The Convention was organized at 4 .M., on Tuesday, at the Chapel in Barton Square, by the choice of the following persons to constitute the Officers of the Convention, viz:

Hon. Samuel Honr, of Concord,-President Rev. John Pierpont, Hon. Robert Rantoul, Rev. B. Hall, Hon. Albert Fearing, - Vice Presidents Rev A. A. Livermore, Francis Alger, jr. Esq.

The Convention then adjoined to mee at the East Church, Wednesday morning, at 9 o'clock, A. M.

At 5 o'clock, the Convention proceeded to Hamilton Hall, where a social tea party was given by the ladies of the four socie ties. The attendance was very large, and the time passed off happily in the most corfully supplied and tastefully arranged, much to the credit of all concerned. The New York Express contains the following:—

We have just received advices from the city of Mexico to the 28th of September, fourteen or fifteen days later than our last, and from Vera Cruz to October 1st,—on which day the British ateamor Medway sailed for Havana and England. She took the despatches of the British courier from the capital, who brought yet later news

This news confirms the substance of previous reports through Mexicans, save that on the 28th our army was in quiet possession of the capital, all afforts to protect which from our arms had for the time been abandoned by the Mexicans, in order to save it, as they say, from the horrors o bombardment.

The Mexican forces retired to the city of Guadalupe on the evening of the 14th, with the view of falling back upon Puebla, in order to-cut off our communication with Vera Cruz, and to rescue Phebla from our arms.

El Genio, of Vera Cruz, of Oct. 1st, under the head of "Latest from the Interior," says:
"We have accounts from Mexico to the 28th of September. The capital enjoyed the greatest tranquility. Security and confidence were completely established. All the commercial estabshments were already open."

This, if correct—and there is hardly a doubt of it—shows our arms to be in complete and quiet possession of "the halls of the Montezumas."
On the 15th of September the American flag was floating over the "National Palace" in Mexico, which Gen. Quitman occupied as civil and military Governor.

The Mexicans, it seems, let out of prison, about the time of their evacuation of the city, 1000 criminals, to whom they gave arms. Be tween them and our people street fights and a sort of duel began, which led to all sorts of disercers, and to the killing and wounding of many on both sides. 'This went on till the 16th. The greater part of the houses, situated in the subnrbs of the city, were sacked.

Santa Anna has actually resigned the Presidency, but not the army. Pena is charged with that office, with whom are associated Generals Herrera and Alcorta.

General Herrera, the report says, was about marching to Queretare with the Mexican infant-ry, in order to re-unite there the troops of San Luis, Durango, Zacatecas and Gnadalajara. In San Luis were about to assemble some deputies.

The latest accounts say that the army assembled at Guadalupe had dispersed. Santa Anna, with two squadrons of cavalry had taken the route to Puebla.

Santa Anna is said to have more than 2000 mounted men with him, on his march to Puebla. The report is, that he had effected a union with Gen. Urrea, who, with three thousand infantry, was encompassing our forces in Puebla, which place was suffering in some degree from the horrots of a bombardment, more than 300 bomb shells and grenades having been thrown into it. All the accounts go to show that the city of Mexico suffered terribly by the criminals let floose, by the leperos, and the consequent attacks out people were compelled to make upon them. Much of the city was "sacked" more or less.

THE SONG OF HATE.

Up! towards the morning dawn above! Up! over hill and river! A last kisa to the wife we love, And our tried aword-forever.

Grasp on till death, and then press on-No frembling—no retreating;
The time—the time for love is gone.

Love cannot aid us-cannot save: Hate be our sole dependance: Hate we all fetters of the slave, Hate! thy doomsday sentence! Where'er a tyrant fills a throne,

There—there's a place of meeting:
The time—the time for love is gone,
New is the time for hating. Whoever hath a throbbing heart,

To hate let him excite it!
There's dry wood round on every part,
And blazing hate to light it.

Through every street theory shall run, The watch word all repeating;
The time—the time for love is gone,
Now is the time for hating.

Eternal war with tyranny, A truce—a realing never, And holier far our hate shall be, Than was our loving ever.

The sword is drawn—the die is thrown, Life's glory or death's greeting; The time—the time for love is gone, Now is the time for hating.

The following improved parody upon the above song, from the pen of Dr. Bowring, was read and presented as a contribution to the enjoyments of the festival :-

THE SONG OF LOVE. Up ! for the sun dawn breathes above, It brightens on the nations;
A double kies for those we love,

Then joy and gratulations. For man-for man is moving on, And heaven and earth are moving; The time—the time for hate is gone,

Now is the time for loving. Yes! hate, yes! hate has done its worst, And man by love attended Hath trampled on its creet accurst, And now its reign is ended.

The tyrant's power is overthrown, All wakening, all improving!
The time—the time for hate is gone,
Now is the time for loving.

Love! scatter round thy glories wide, On near lands and on far lands! Love's flowers spring up on every side.

From home to home - from zone to zone, All weeds of hate removing; The time—the time for hate is gone,
Now is the time for loving.

O'er roofs of peasants-domes of kings, Be love the guardian angel; The holiest of all holy things. Is love and love's Evangel!

Firm as a steadlast rock their throne. While shifting years are moving;
The time—the time for hate is gone,
Now is the time for loving.

ACQUIRED TALENT. The following story

They were discussing the subject of natural and acquired talent and Cecco maintained that mature was more potent than art, while Dante asserted the contrary. To prove this principle the great Italian bard referred to his cat, which by repeated practice he had taught to held a candle in his paw, while he supped or read. Cecco desired to witness the experiment and came not unprepared for his purpose—when Danie's cat was performing purpose—when Danie's cat was performing its part, Cecco lifting up the lid of a pot, which he had filled with mice, the creature of an art merely acquired, dropping the candle, flew on the mice with all its instinctive propensity. Dante was himself disconcerted and it was adjudged that the advocate for the occult principle of natural faculties had gained his cause.

THE IRISHMAN'S CAT. A short time sgo a poor Irishman applied at the churchwarden's office of Manchester, for relief, and upon some doubt being expressed whether he was a proper object for parochial charity, enforced his suit with much earnesiness. 'Och, your honor,' said he, 'sure I'd be starved long since but for my cat.' 'But for what?' asked his astendard the company of the cat.' his astonished interrogator. 'My cat,' re-joined the Irishman. 'Your cat! Hew so?'
'Sure, your honor, I sould her elevin times for sixpence a time, and she was always at or otherwise.

Greenport, July 10, 1846.

Dr. Townsend: Dear sir—It is with satisfaction that I say to you, that I have receively witnessed, in several cases, the most beneficial results from the use of your Extract of Sarsaparilia. Being engaged in the practice of medicine, I have preacribed it in several cases, and never without benefit. In the removal of diseases arising from a deranged state of the digestive organs, jaundice, &c., it far exceede anything of the kind ever before offered to the public. You will please send me two dozen, &c., &c., Resp'y yours, S. C. PRESTON, M. D.

This Sarsaparilia is used with the most perfect success in Rheumaile complaints, however severe or chronic. The astonishing cines it has performed are indeed wonderful. Other remedies wometimes give iemporary relief; this entirely endicates it from the system, even when the limbs and bones are dreaffully swollen. The Piles!

A Cure for Life Guarantied!

This verexable Pills Electuary, invented by Dr. A. Upham, a distinguished physician of New York city, is the only really successful remedy for that dangerous and distressing complaint, the Pilles, ever offered to the American public.

Mark this: it is an inversal allowed the Pilles, either Biseding or Blind, internal or External; and probably the only thing that will. There is no mistake about it. It is a positive cure—speedy and perma and. It is siso a convenient medicine to take, and improves the general health in a remarkable manner. Each Box contains twelve does, at 8½ cts per dose. It is very mild in its operation, and may be taken in cases of the most acute inflammation without danger. All external applications are in the highest degree disagreeable, inconvenient, and offensive; and from the very nature of the disease, temporary in their effects. This Medicine attacks the disease at its source, and removing the cause, renders the cure certain and permant.

The Electuary is also a very valuable remedy for In flammation of the Liver and Spiece; Inflammation, Sorquess and Ulceration of the Stongers. A Cure for Life Guarantied!

The Electuary is also a very valuable remedy for in famination of the Liver and Spicen; Inflammation, Soreness and Ulceration of the Stoniach, Bowels, Kidneys, and Biadder; Inflammatory and Mercurial Rheumatism; Impurity of the Blood, caused by the mpradent use of Mercury; Weakness and Inflammation of the Spine and Back; and for the relief of December 1 delay before confinement, ensuring an executive and tion of the Spine and Back; and for the relief of Pregnant Ladies, before confinement, ensuring an easy time, usle delivery, and a healthy offspring.

This admiral preparation contains no mineral medicine, no Aless, Cologyth, Gambege, or other powerful and irritaing Purgatives; and II taken according to the directions, in case of Piles, A CURE FOR LIFE IS GUARANTIED.

OUABANTIED.
